The Principal in the Chair,

Here the members present

Report of the Committee on Vacations

The Committee appointed at the last meeting of the Faculty to take into consideration "whether it would be for the good of the pupils in the vacations that any change should be in place, and if so, what the change should be," are here to report. That in their opinion a change is desirable, and would be advantageous to the pupils, and least connected with the Asylum. The change which they would propose is that instead of our present vacations of four weeks each, in May and October, we have one vacation of eight weeks, commencing on the third Wednesday of July annually.

The reasons for the proposed change are,

1. The interruption to the regular course of study occasioned by our present plan, considerable time is lost by the pupils in anticipating the examinations, in preparing for their journey, and in delaying to return practically at the commencement of the next term.
2. The weeks who visit their homes would be more benefited, and their friends better pleased by their having but one vacation.
3. The present vacations are not long enough, for those who live at a great distance from the Asylum, to go home, visit their friends, and return at the commencement of the next term.
4. The business of the school-room during the hottest part of the summer is very exhausting, both to pupils and teacher, and comparatively little progress is made in study.
5. The interruptions occasioned by visits are greater, and more injurious in the heat of summer than at any other time.
6. The difficulty to sickness, as shown by the experience of former years, is much greater during the latter part of summer than at any other portion of the year, which by the proposed change of vacations might be avoided.

7. The health of the teachers, and others employed in the Asylum renders release from confinement, and labour, or at least, a mitigation of both at this season, very desirable.
The larger number of pupils would visit their friends, and the gratification for the engagers would be greater than the Spring.

Why would be removed from the temptation to the use of unripe fruit which is abundant in July and August, near the Asylum.

If the legislature of the State would have an opportunity of visiting the Asylum during their sessions in April and June, which latter, they have not enjoyed, owing to the time of occupying vacations.

Other reasons for a change might be offered, but these are deemed sufficient. The Committee would recommend the adoption of proper measures for bringing this subject before the Board of Directors, for their decision.

The above is respectfully submitted by

Laurent Clerc
Lewis V. Webb, Chairman
D.E. Barnette,

The above report was accepted by the Faculty.

Resolved, that the Principal be requested to cause an attested copy thereof to be communicated to the Board of Directors, with such remarks on the subject of the proposed change of vacations as may deem expedient to subjoin.

Attest C. Stone

Faculty Meeting Feb 1, 1835

The principal in the chair.

All the members present.

Whereas,

It has been represented to the Faculty, that George Leidfort, a pupil of the Asylum, on the morning of Feb 1st, according to his own confession, attempted to set fire to the Institution, which fire was providentially extinguished at the moment the flames were rapidly spreading; also in consideration of his general character, his seeming entire want of Moral Sense, the frequency of predominance of his evil propensities, & his inability to acquire Knowledge; as for these reasons, we think him not only a troublesome, but dangerous inmate of the Institution. Therefore

Resolved, That instead of expelling him at once from the Institution, we will, through the Principal, state his case fully to the Directing Committee & abide their decision.

The case of Fitch, a boy 7 years of age, recently admitted from the State of Maine, was taken into consideration. After some conversation, the Faculty stated it as their unanimous opinion that as the boy is unable to take care of himself or from his age, to make proper in the school-room, and as he is very troublesome to the inmates of the institution and those living in the vicinity, he is not at home to be placed here; it that the Principal should take some measure to have him removed to his friends, till he arrives at the age prescribed by the rule of the institution.
