Report of the Committee.
Mr. Hale said little about May 30 minute as the report was lost.

He announced for a saga as the hotel in Feb. 1917.

The president said that there was formed in Bridgeport what was known as Bridgeport Alumni Association, a subordinate of the American School Alumni Association. It was reported by Conover, John J. Moran and Michael Dubois who organized the branch.

After raising funds from parties, dances etc., the Bridgeport School deposited in the Bank at Bridgeport would not lend any to Hartford distinct from the Officers of the Alumni Association.

The Arthur Morris talked for the Bridgeport Alumni.
He said that there was a society organized in Bridgeport by name of Bridgeport Alumni and the object was to raise funds.
Mr. Joseph Youngs was elected President.
Mr. Schenkel was elected Secretary.
This Jennie Wallin was elected Treasurer. Mr. Arthur J. Morris and two more deans were elected Treasurers. They planned to hold entertainments to raise funds to be turned over to American School Alumni Association. Instead of the funds being deposited in a bank in Bridgeport, Mr. Morris said the Bridgeport Alumni officers thought that the bank was better than the Hartford bank.

There came some trouble. Mr. Morris said he was planning to give a coffee party at his own expense, but he was prevented from doing so.

After he had finished his talk, Mr. Francis Griffin took a stand to corroborate Mr. Morris' testimony, and told how he and Mr. Allen spent the afternoon together at Pleasure Beach. Then they returned to the city and had lunch in the alley. There were four deaf mutes, including Mr. T. Corsetto in the dining room.

Mr. Griffin said he was seated at a table with Mr. Allen opposite him, and Mr. T. Corsetto was standing by. Mr. Griffin put his money into his pocket for a roll of $3.00 and to his surprise the money was gone. He felt sick about it. He suspected it was stolen, but not sure who stole it. He said he knew Mr. T. Corsetto was dead broke. Then he and Mr. Allen left the cafe and went home. Then Mr. T. Corsetto called his companions and asked them to go to Chop Suey with him. Mr. Griffin wondered how Mr. Corsetto could afford to pay for Chop Suey though he was broken on his money. Mr. Griffin said that about $14.00 belonged to the Bridgeport Alumni.

The next morning, he went to the office of his brother who was the physician. He consulted with his brother about the loss. His brother prepared a check for him and signed his name on the check required of the amount payable to the Bridgeport Alumni. Then Mr. Griffin delivered the check to President Jones who said it was his brother who signed the check.

Later Mr. Corsetto came to him demanding the
The money belonging to the Bridgeport Alumni. Mr. Griffin told Mr. Colette to go to see Mr. Griffin. Mr. Griffin said that the Bridgeport Alumni Association had planned to send a delegate to represent that branch to the meeting. Mr. Goldberg was not present at the meeting. Mr. Griffin said the Bridgeport Alumni had about $27.03 in the custody of Miss Jennie Wallin as treasurer. He advised her to keep back the fund belonging to the American School Alumni Association. Mr. Griffin said he resigned as one of the Trustees.

The president Mr. John Moran said that the Bridgeport Alumni was organized as a subordinate of the American School Alumni Association and that the Bridgeport Alumni was to hold entertainments to raise funds for the A.S.A.A. Included was the subordinated was to put some money in a bank in Bridgeport. Mr. Moran said he was chosen Grand Treasurer by the committee called Centennial Celebration. He was to take care of the funds keeping as the Centennial Celebration Fund and he had a Bank Book with $27.44 deposited in it.

The Secretary was instructed to write to President Young on Mr. Goldberg.

Dana B. Taylor, Secretary.
Wethersfield, Conn. Nov 1st, 1916

Mr. Joseph Youngs.
Dear Sir:

I was instructed by the Alumni Association at the recent union to write to you. I understand that there was being organized Bridgeport Alumni which was a Subsidiary of the American School Alumni Association with you as President. The money thus raised by the Bridgeport Alumni was to be turned to Mr. John D. Moran, the General Treasurer. He was chosen by the General Committee last Spring to be the General Treasurer with Prof. John C. Crane as the Chairman of the said Committee. The said Committee has supreme authority over all the other committees.

Mr. John D. Moran is entitled to collect all the money or funds and has a bank book called Centralized Celebration Fund with John D. Moran as bank Treasurer.

I learned that during the summer the Bridgeport Deaf raised $25, 63 for the Alumni Association but instead of it was deposited in Bridgeport Bank with Mrs. Susan Ballin as Treasurer. It seems to me as a departure to the Alumni Association as well as the Grand Celebration of the Founding of the American School in 1917.

Also learned that the Bridgeport Deaf proposed to send a representative by the name of Mr. Goldberg to the Reunion of the Alumni Association which was held last Sunday.

Mr. Goldberg was not present at the Reunion and his expenses were not paid out of the funds. Now let me know that as Mr. Goldberg was not a pupil of the American School but a pupil of the New York Institution for the Deaf, his presence at the Reunion was not recognized and his expenses which were to be paid out of the funds were not recognized.

Now I ask you to turn all the funds over to Mr. John D. Moran of 65 Hartford Ave New Britain._den as the Bridgeport Alumni is to be continued.

Sincerely yours.
P.S. I add some more.
The General Committee which are composed of the Chairmen of the sub-committees, appointed from

The General Committee have the Authority to arrange for the Grand Celebration and the National Convention of the N.A.D. in 1917 sometime in the summers.
They have no authority to provide themselves at the expense of the funds but will spare no expenses to make the convention and celebration the biggest in history.
